Give your students a strong foundation to safely navigate their online lives.

As parents to Gen Z students, it can be hard to keep up with ever-changing trends in apps and games, and the risks they bring.

As students, it's hard to navigate online communication and new situations without proper guidance.

This is why our School Resource Officers want to educate our CCSD21 middle school parents about what they need to know as their students start exploring and talking with others online.

This session will give parents a look into the Digital Citizenship lessons created for students grades 6-8. Parents will learn what to watch out for with cyberbullying, online predators, and digital footprint, and have the opportunity for a Q&A with Officers Essig and Czapla from Buffalo Grove and Wheeling Police Departments.
